Regulatory Compliance Assistance

Is a Unique Solution Best for Your Company's Unique Needs?

Every Company has unique needs. First Consulting offers unique solutions.

First Consulting & Administration is an insurance regulatory compliance consulting firm that has served the insurance industry since 1969. We provide complete regulatory and compliance assistance and consulting.

We answer compliance questions, assist in developing and drafting new products and forms, make UCAA and other licensing filings, complete regulatory surveys, summarize laws and regulations, review advertising, make forms, rates, rules or other regulatory filings, and assist with other compliance issues. First Consulting can put its knowledge, experience and reputation to work for your Company.

Our Co-Sourcing approach allows for individual consideration of each client's unique needs, requirements and specific projects. At the same time each company maintains control of all activities on its behalf.

What is Co-Sourcing?

With Co-Sourcing your Company maintains a role in the process at whatever level is most appropriate for the specific company and project. First Consulting provides the specific services and tasks needed and shares with the Company's staff in the completion of the project or function.

Co-Sourcing with First Consulting can improve quality. All work completed by First Consulting includes a quality review.

Co-Sourcing with First Consulting also resolves the staffing level dilemma. With First Consulting available to assist with peak workloads, Companies do not need to choose between over staffing or missing opportunities.

A Flexible Approach

The Co-Sourcing Alternative

Co-Sourcing involves both your Company's staff and First Consulting's associates.

Co-Sourcing of regulatory and compliance functions with First Consulting offers benefits unavailable when using only in-house or outsourced resources. Co-Sourcing with First Consulting involves the deployment of both in-house and outsourced resources in a manner that effectively leverages expertise and resources. Co-Sourcing with First Consulting allows compliance professionals to maximize their efforts by delegating specific sub-parts of the total function. Company personnel maintain control of all projects.

Co-Sourcing with First Consulting can also provide the specialized knowledge that is needed to complete a specific project yet may never be used again. When Company's personnel are involved in Co-Sourced projects, it is easy for your staff to learn from First Consulting.
