HEADLINE: First Consulting unveils new “EPIC” service to help insurers go digital

BODY: In response to high demand from the insurance industry and in light of continuing compliance concerns challenging insurance product and sales innovation, First Consulting is excited to unveil “E.P.I.C.” – which stands for Electronic Processing for Insurance Carriers – a new bundling of specific services designed to help carriers “go digital.”

EPIC is a customizable approach to helping any carrier at any step in the process take its products digital or online. Whether a company is just starting to explore e-signature use at the producer level or is ready to take the leap to online direct-to-consumer sales with instant underwriting, First Consulting is prepared to help ease the transition.

Upon the launch of EPIC, Francine Fetyko, President of First Consulting, said “As the industry evolves and insurance companies move toward adoption of digital and online processes to meet a changing consumer demand, one thing remains consistent: First Consulting is the go-to leader in insurance compliance solutions and is always pushing itself to remain ahead of the innovation curve to help our clients reach their new compliance goals. We believe EPIC is a huge step in that continuing evolution.”

EPIC includes a bundling and revamp of several existing services, including helping companies overcome compliance concerns related to the drafting and filing of “digital” forms, social media compliance, online advertising compliance, e-signature compliance related to state and federal rules, and more. First Consulting has experience working with regulators on all of these issues, and is prepared to leverage that experience even further through EPIC.

“We are really excited about this new offering, and look forward to helping our carrier clients meet their new ‘EPIC’ compliance goals,” said Fetyko.
